

Name: Surname: Class:

I- LISTENING COMPREHENSION: (8 marks)

1. Listen and tick (✓) the right alternative: (1 mark)

a- Amy and Paul talk about :

- their own experience when driving in rush hours. ☐
- traffic accidents they saw or experienced themselves. ☐
- innocent mistakes that caused life risks for them. ☐

2. Listen and complete the table with information about Amy's car accident: (2 marks)

Driver	Causes of the accident	Consequences
Amy's boyfriend	1- driving too fast	1- The driver
	2-
	3- driving in dark condition	2- The car got demolished by a jeep

3. Answer the following question: (1 mark)

a- Where were Amy and her friend driving when the accident took place?

.....

4. Give a justified answer to the following question. (1mark)

Your justification should be retrieved from the listening passage.

a- Did Amy suffer severe injuries in the car accident?

.....

Justification:

5. Listen and complete the missing words: (1 mark)

- Paul: ...I shouldn't laugh but this old lady was in her car. And bless her, she must have got and she put the car into reverse and when she went to put the car in forward gear, and she drove like straight into the person behind her and up the car behind her.

6. Provide the appropriate function of the following utterance.: (1 mark)

- He was driving with a national speed limit, so he had to slow right down.

→ It is used to express:

7. PRONUNCIATION: (1 mark)

a. Listen and circle the word you hear: (0.5 mark)

• bill – fill – hill – kill

b. Listen and find out a word having the following sound: (0.5 mark)

• /tʃ/ →

II- LANGUAGE: (12 marks)

1) Fill in the blanks with 8 words from the list. Be careful! There are 2 extra words. (4 marks)

X-ray / so / found / lodge / surgery / bouncy / rushed / but / go off / swallowing

German shepherd Libby had been coughing up blood after weeks of fetching golf balls at the course where owner Mike Wardrop works. Mr Wardrop said he had not realised the dog had a secret taste for the balls she each day at Didsbury Golf Club in Manchester. Mr Wardrop used to watch with pride as 18-month-old Libby picked up golf balls on their daily walk but little did he know that she was them. He said: "It got to the stage where she would pick up four or five balls every day. She loved fitting them in her mouth. She would bring them to me and I would have a laugh. I had no idea she was wolfing them down as well." Mr Wardrop, 47, only noticed there was something wrong when Libby began to her food. His wife Julie, 45, then noticed Libby coughing up blood and her to the nearby Veterinary Clinic. Mr Wardrop said: "I didn't believe my wife at all when she told me Libby had swallowed 28 balls." The vets didn't even have to do an because they could hear the balls and feel them rattling around. The balls weighed 2,72 kg and were removed during a three-hour Libby had to have 30 stitches to sew her back up. Mr Wardrop said it cost £600 was worth every penny. Libby is now recovering and a bit more than she was before.

2) Circle the right alternative. (4 marks)

The impact that teachers have on their students' lives is immeasurable. The best teachers not only impart knowledge but also inspire and motivate students (achieving - achieved - to achieve) their full potential. In my experience as an engineering student, I was fortunate to have had the opportunity to learn from an exceptional teacher who transformed my life. I (had enrolled - enrolled - have enrolled) in the engineering program back in 2019, with a vague idea of what I wanted to do with my life. When I (was meeting - have met - met) Mrs. Khurshid, my Mechanics teacher, I realized that I wanted to become an engineer. Mrs. Khurshid was not just a teacher; she was a mentor, a friend, and a guide (which - who - whom) helped me navigate the challenges of college life. She had an innate ability to connect with her students and understanding their individual strengths and weaknesses. Her (fashion - passion - compassion) for teaching was contagious, and her enthusiasm for the subject matter was clear in every class. (Among - Along - Beyond) the classroom, she encouraged me to participate in extracurricular activities, such as Writing Competitions, designing, and research projects. Thanks to her emphasis on my writing skills, I was able to develop a well-rounded set of skills that (had been - were - has been) precious in my professional life. I am always (hopeful - grateful - indifferent) for her guidance and support, which have left a lasting impact on my life. She was a source of support and encouragement during my battles with life.

3) Put the words in parentheses in the right tense or form. (4 marks)

A dog who walked 3,000 miles with his grieving owner has been shortlisted for a prestigious "hero dog" award. Four-year-old rescue Louis, who lives with his owner Nick Johnson near Warminster, Wiltshire, is one of five dogs in the running to be (award) the title. Over the course of seven months last year, Mr Johnson and Louis walked about four-and-a-half million steps along the English coastline in memory of Mr Johnson's late wife Lisa, who had ovarian cancer. The duo, who (so far/manage) to raise more than £60,000 for Ovarian Cancer Action, will find out if they have won the "Best Friends" category of the Kennel Club award on May 9th, 2025. Mr Johnson said they were extremely (pride) and honoured to be finalists in the competition. Describing Louis as "100% his best friend", Mr Johnson said: "He's always there with a wagging tail, he expects nothing other than his bowl filled twice a day. Anything that (drop) on the floor in the kitchen is his, but other than that he is my full time companion." Mr Johnson said the idea for his epic walk (come) about two days before his wife's death in August 2023, and he (promise) to walk with Louis to raise awareness for the charity. Throughout the walk, Louis was the "star of the show". Everywhere they went people were (draw) to him. The winner of the hero dog award (be) decided by popular vote, with the first-place dog winning £5,000 to go to a dog charity of their owner's choice.

Car Smash Ups

Amy and Paul talks about traffic accidents they saw or experienced themselves.

Paul: So I was on my way to work the other day, and I saw this really—you shouldn't laugh but it was quite funny traffic accident. I shouldn't laugh but this old lady was in her car. And bless her, she must have got confused and she put the car into reverse and when she went to like put the car in forward gear, and she drove like straight into the person behind her and smashed up the car behind her.

Amy: Oh no.

Paul: I mean, it was an innocent mistake but it could happen to any of us but it was a bit, sort of calamitous really. How about you? Have you had any car accidents?

Amy: Not like that. I've been in a car—I was a passenger in a car accident. When I was about 17, my boyfriend at the time was driving too fast on a country road with a national speed limit, so he had to slow right down. The roads were very, very wet. It was dark. He came up over a small hill and there was a big jeep suddenly waiting to turn right and he stomped on the brakes and skidded right into the back of it. So his little car just got demolished by this jeep.

We were okay. He hit his head on the steering wheel. And I think I had seatbelt pain from where the seatbelt was but yeah, the car was a write-off. But we were okay.

Paul: Wow. Thank goodness for that. It sounds like pretty horrific.

Amy: No, no. It was okay.

Paul: Yeah.

Amy: It taught him to, I guess, be a better driver. He was driving too fast on slippery and dark conditions.

Paul: Yeah. I guess when you're at that age, you almost feel like you're untouchable, nothing can stop you. So sometimes, you need those sorts of experiences to kind of make you realize that.

Amy: Don't be a boy racer.

Paul: Don't be a boy racer and it can be taken away from you. Your life could be taken away from you very easily, you know. It's pretty—

Amy: Yeah, we were really lucky, for sure.