Today is my birthday. « Many happy returns of the day », say mummy and daddy as they come into my bedroom and kiss me and tell me that There are some nice presents for me in the living room .So I get up quickly, wash MY face and put on his clothes and go to the living room. On the piano, there are many birthday cards from my family and friends. There are also many presents. My mother gives me a nice bicycle, my sister gives me a lovely teddy bear and my father offers me a wonderful black watch.

At three O'clock, the birthday party starts. My classmates arrive. They give me nice presents. Then, mum calls the boys to the dining room. It's decorated with purple balloons and red flowers. On the table, there is a big birthday cake with twelve blue candles on it. At half past three, my aunt arrives with a present too. It's a lovely green pullover. The party starts, dad lights the candles, the children sing "Happy birthday Peter" and I blow out the candles. They dance, eat the delicious cake and drink strawberry juice until it's time to go back home . "Thanks Peter for the lovely party", say the guests before leaving.

My house

Dear Jane,

Hi Jane! How are you? I miss you a lot. I'm pleased to tell you about my house and my favourite ~~house~~ room.

Well, I live in a 2-storey house in the house suburbs of Gables. It is big and cosy. Outside, There is a lovely garden with plenty of (a lot of) trees and flowers. There is a nice pool and a swing. Downstairs, there is a spacious (large) living room with modern furniture. We can see two sofas colourful cushions on them there is a carpet in the middle (hand-made carpet). There are fascinating frames on the wall. There is also a big chandelier on the ceiling. It's my favourite because my family and I can sit and watch TV together. There is hall in the ~~middle~~ middle, between the living room and the kitchen ~~there~~. Next to it, you find a toilet. There is a staircase that ~~lead~~ leads you upstairs.

There, we have my parents' room which is on the right and my ~~own~~ bedroom. My brothers share ~~it with~~ a room and it is in the corner. Finally, There is a bathroom with a shower. I love my house because it is safe and It's the best for me.

I must stop now, It's bedtime. Write me soon and tell me about your house.

Yours,

At the market.

Market day in my town is Sunday. The market place is huge and crowded. People from different towns and villages come to the market to buy many goods. There are many kinds of products like fruit and vegetables, clothes, pottery and even pets. People can also find cheap clothes at the flea market. These goods are in shops, on stalls and on the ground. Every week, I go to the market with my mum to do our shopping. We buy fresh fruit and vegetables at the greengrocer's. We go to the butcher's to buy some meat. We sometimes meet our neighbours. We take and have fun. Finally we go back home with baskets full of everything.

The farmer

like

Uncle Hedy is a farmer. He lives with his family on a beautiful farm in the ~~country side~~ countryside. He works hard on it everyday. His wife helps him because she ~~is~~ thinks that her husband is very tired / exhausted. The day starts very early on the farm. First, uncle Hedy cleans the barn and milks the cows. He keeps many animals on his farm. He has got 4 cows, 10 sheep, 5 goats and a house. He never buy eggs because he has a lot of hens. Every morning, his wife collect the eggs to sell them on the market day. Uncle Hedy plows the fields with a tractor because he grows fruit and vegetables such as tomatoes, cucumbers, apricot and water melon... He is proud of his farm because it gives all ~~and~~ what he needs.
